

Register for arkansasbusiness.com | Site Help | Contact ABPG

username password SIGN IN

ARKANSAS BUSINESS

NORTHWEST ARKANSAS
BUSINESS JOURNALSearch ArkansasBusiness.com STARThomenewsresearchpeopleeventsjobslinks

Tuesday, March 13, 2007 8:07:34 PM

free daily eNews

Sign up for daily updates from the Arkansas Business newsroom!

 GO!
arkansas industry news

Agriculture & Poultry
Architecture
Banking & Finance
Business Services
Construction
Education
Energy
Government & Politics
Health Care
Insurance
Investments
Legal Manufacturing
Media & Marketing
Nonprofits
Public Companies
Real Estate
Restaurants & Food
Retail
Small Business
Technology & Telecom
Tourism
Transportation

arkansas business news storyFor Shame (Editorial)

By Arkansas Business Staff

3/5/2007

Seven members of the Senate Commerce & Insurance Committee were neither strong enough to fight the loan sharks nor brave enough to actually vote against a bill to protect Arkansas consumers from the scourge of payday lenders. Instead, they just didn't vote.

Five members — Paul Miller, D-Melbourne; Percy Malone, D-Arkadelphia; Barbara Horn, D-Foreman; Robert Johnson, D-Bigelow; and Paul Bookout, D-Jonesboro — were present but didn't vote. President Pro Tempore Jack Critcher, D-Batesville, and Terry Smith, D-Hot Springs, conveniently managed to be out of the room when it came time to vote. Nice try, guys, but protecting your constituents and neighbors from predators should have been a priority.

Only Sen. Jim Argue, D-Little Rock, had the courage of his convictions. Here's hoping at least four of these wimps will find the strength to join him in criminalizing usurious lending when the bill comes up again. If not, you'll know whom to blame — the bill sailed through the House and would likely do the same in the Senate if these enablers would get out of the way.

[Link to this article]

Change font size

 print preview
 send article

- Submit A Whisper
- Submit Calendar Event
- Submit News Release
- Advertise Online
- Buy Gift Subscriptions
- Rank Top Golf Courses
- Buy 1 Year Of Archive Access

research & lists

- Book of Lists

today's headlines

> ADVERTISEMENT